JAGANNATH
UNIVERSITY, JAIPUR

Research/ Statistical Database

With the introduction of digital technologies in educational institutions, there is always a need of rich database pertaining to research and online learning. This quest became more pronounced in the pandemic time also for every institution. Every attention is made to create a learner centric environment in the university. JaganNath University, Jaipur has a rich database of research papers, journals, e-books etc.Besides the Library has membership of various consortium, professional and educational groups like e–Shodhsindhu, Inflibnet, Delnet, Manupatra, i-scholor, etc.It is a common practice to upload every thesis of our research scholars on Shodhganga.The University library provides access to the National Digital Library of India (NDL India), which is a pilot project to develop a framework of virtual repository of learning resources with a single – window search facility. The teachers and students have enrolled in NDL for the said benefits. Apart from that various open sources i.e. Vidwan, Agris, etc. are also shared by the Librarian with teachers and students who are further encouraged accessing the same.

To enhance research activities in the campus, JaganNath University has many open source softwares for advanced statistical analysis, hypothesis testing, predictive analytics and for designing/ prototyping applications.
